India's fertilizer sector ranks third in the world and is the second largest consumer of fertilizers after China. It also ranks second in the production of nitrogenous fertilizers and third in phosphatic fertilizers.

In this scenario, we bring this Fertilizer Directory 2025, which is an attempt to report on the fertilizer and agrochemical companies with detailed company profile, current capacity, and expansion plans etc., along with details of address, tel, fax, email and details of key personnel.

Overview

India with world second largest population is always facing pressure on food security. It is pertinent that it cuts losses of food grains due to pest attacks. Due to intensive cultivation, there is also deficiency of micronutrients in the soil leading to poor yield. Some of the key micro nutrients boron, chlorine, copper, iron, manganese, molybdenum and zinc is deplete with frequent repetition of crops. Further, the loss caused by pests is also huge. So, it is imperative that fertilizer and crop protection chemicals play an important part.

The Indian Fertilizer Industry has shown tremendous growth in the last five decades and at present ranks third in the world. It is the second largest consumer of fertilizers after China. It also ranks second in the production of nitrogenous fertilizers and third in phosphatic fertilizers whereas the requirement of potash is met through imports since there are limited reserves of potash in the country.

The directory covers all fertilizer and agrochemical plants —all over India. It covers all segments viz. Urea, DAP, SSP, Other complex fertilizers, agrochemicals like pesticides, insecticides etc.,

In India, there are about 125 technical grade manufacturers (10 MNCs), 800 formulators, over 145,000 distributors. 60 technical grade pesticides are being manufactured indigenously. Technical grade manufacturers sell high purity chemicals in bulk (generally in drums of 200-250 Kg) to formulators. In turn, formulators prepare formulations by adding inert carriers, solvents, surface active agents, deodorants etc. These formulations are packed for retail sale and bought by the farmers.

With regards to crop protection market it is dominated by insecticides which forms 65% of the market, while bio pesticides, which currently represent only 4.2% of the overall pesticide market in India. Fungicides form 16% of the market, while rodenticides form 15% of the market. In India, the usage of insecticides is more as developed countries use genetically modified crops which results in low use of insecticides. Further northern hemisphere in non tropic zone have favorable climatic conditions. Tropical climatic conditions and high production of paddy, cotton, sugarcane and other cereals in India drive the consumption of insecticides. Availability of cheap labor for manual weed picking also contributed to low consumption of herbicides in India.

Recent Measures

Focus on Nano-Fertilizers: There's growing interest in nano-fertilizers for their potential to increase nutrient-use efficiency, reduce wastage, and promote sustainable agriculture.

Promotion of Organic Fertilizers: Emphasis is being placed on promoting organic and bio-fertilizers as part of a drive towards sustainable agricultural practices and reducing dependence on chemical fertilizers.

Revival of Closed Fertilizer Plants: The government is reviving several closed fertilizer plants to augment domestic production capabilities.

Increased Production: India's fertilizer production has seen a significant boost in recent years. The emphasis on domestic production aims to reduce reliance on imports.

Programs such as PM-KISAN and PM-Garib Kalyan Yojana have received endorsements from the United Nations Development Programme for their contributions to food security. The geopolitical landscape has further influenced India's fertilizer market.

Some of the other recent measures are

- Neem Coating of Urea
- Gas Pooling for the Fertilizer (Urea) Sector
- Direct Transfer Benefit in the Fertilizer Industry:
